ROLL CALL: Murguia, Kane, Markley, Walters, Philbrook, Bynum, Townsend, McKiernan, Holland.

Mayor Holland asked do we have any revisions to tonight’s agenda? Bridgette Cobbins, UG Clerk, said yes, Mayor, we have a revision. A blue sheet has been distributed. Under Section XII, the Land Bank Board of Trustee’s Consent Agenda, we have a correction. Paper copies of the agenda were sent out under Section XII, Land Bank Board of Trustee’s agenda, as a not Consent Agenda. The electronic version is correct. Mayor Holland said these items are not on consent. We’ll need to take an individual vote for each of them.

Mayor Holland said before we dive into the agenda I would like to make an announcement. I was honored to have the opportunity a few weeks ago to sit down with John Melton and Lynn Melton. I appreciate their taking the time and initiative to share their hearts with me. I felt the dialogue was very helpful.

Following our conversation, I want to publicly reiterate my apology to them for the timing of my remarks during the press conference following the death of their brother, Captain Dave Melton, who was tragically killed in the line of duty. As both a pastor and a mayor, I would never intentionally introduce controversial comments during a time of grief. For that, I am deeply sorry.

The focus remains that Dave Melton is a hero. He is a hero to our country for his service in the military, and a hero to our community, giving his life to keep us safe. Thank you very much.

Mayor Holland said we’re going to move forward now with our agenda item.

ITEM NO. 1 – 16722...ORDINANCE: MASTER PLANS AND MASTER PLAN Amendments

Synopsis: An ordinance affirming approval of Master Plans and Master Plan amendments, submitted by Patrick Waters, Legal. All of the Master Plans and Master Plan amendments have previously been approved by the Board of Commissioners. On August 11, 2016, the full commission voted unanimously to table this item for 30 days.

Mayor Holland said this was an item that was before us a month ago and we made a motion to delay it by 30 days. I’ll turn it over to Doug Bach.

Doug Bach, County Administrator, said as you said, we brought this item before the Commission on August 11. There were some questions about this. The procedure of what we’re doing is just confirming or affirming an ordinance to approve master plans that have been brought before the Commission.

On previous years, they’d all been approved by the Commission by a vote. If they’d been considered, public hearings were held all surrounding them. However, we have not approved an ordinance in relation to them. After we went through and evaluated this with our bond counsel, they thought it best that we go forth and actually approve an ordinance, which is kind of the structural form with that, so we have that to document anything they have and any time we issue IRBs or any TIFs or anything that relate and go back to those ordinances.

Procedurally, I don’t think it changes anything from how we’ve done anything or how we would do anything in the future based on what was approved in those plans. If you have questions, Mr. Waters is here from the Legal Department.

Action: Ordinance No. O-57-16, “An ordinance affirming the previous approval of Master Plans and Master Plan amendments.” Commissioner Philbrook made a motion, seconded by Commissioner McKiernan, to approve the ordinance.

Commissioner Murguia said I just have a quick more legal question than anything. Why, I may have missed this meeting, I’ve been out for a while, but why would we make our Master Plans an... ordinance as opposed to just an established, adopted guideline. Patrick Waters, Senior Attorney, said, Commissioner, it’s simply what the state law requires that we pass it in this way. The Master Plan, itself, is a guideline. That’s what it really is, but the state law also requires that you pass it as an ordinance. It’s simply following that.

Commissioner Murguia asked why would a state law dictate whether or not our Master Plan is a simple guideline or a plan than an ordinance. Why are they telling us that our Master Plan has to be an ordinance? Why do they care?

Mr. Waters said it’s simply part of the Planning and Zoning statutes. I don’t think the state law is saying how much weight you have to put into a specific Master Plan. I think the Commission has discretion on that. They’re simply saying that you need to codify it as an ordinance. This doesn’t really affect the Commission’s discretion when it comes to how we adopt, what we put into a Master Plan, or the weight that we put into that. It’s really more of a procedural step as Mr. Bach said.

Mr. Bach said Patrick said that, but I’m just clarifying. You approve the guideline. The ordinance takes it and says you formally approve this guideline. It’s your way of adopting, it’s how the Commission takes action on items. You approve an ordinance and that puts it in. It’s still the same guideline as it was before.

Commissioner Murguia said I guess I don’t understand. We adopt guidelines all the time and we don’t make them an ordinance, which is a law. Mr. Waters said right. Commissioner Murguia said when you make something a law, there’s lots of — in order to deviate then from that ordinance once that Master Plan becomes an ordinance, there is a pretty serious process that has to be gone through.

As we all know, development is difficult enough in Wyandotte County, in particular east of I-635. Plans change, especially in older parts of our city where you have to be more flexible in how you develop and you design things. There’s just so much money and so much process already around that, it would seem to me that adopting these as ordinances would only add to any deviation from a plan that could occur. It would just add a lot of burden to developers that would be looking at doing work in the city. Am I wrong about that?

Mayor Holland said I’m going to ask the Chief Legal Counsel to respond to that.

Ken Moore, Chief Legal Counsel, said, Commissioner, the Planning and Zoning ordinances, it’s just a method that they require by statute to adopt a Master Plan. This was something that should have been undertaken at the time the individual plans were considered, the public hearings were held, and the plans were adopted. Really, it’s just a formality of adopting the plan.

Doing so doesn’t change the dynamics of the plan. It doesn’t give it any greater weight or greater impact than it already has. It is still the guideline that the Commission uses to consider different development. The Commission can deviate from that, just as they do now, for good cause, with or without it being adopted by ordinance.

It doesn’t give it any greater weight, or make it any more strict, or make it more difficult for the Commission to take action as they deem necessary. All those options are still in effect whether it’s done by ordinance or not. This is just a formality that’s required by the statute to do that, so we’re just complying with that so that there won’t be any question in the future.

Commissioner Murguia said obviously I’m not an attorney and I’m not in any position to argue that, but I’ll be even more specific. The Chief Legal Counsel for KU Hospital is concerned about our Master Plans becoming ordinances. Apparently, with his law degree, he interprets the law slightly differently than we do, and they’re concerned. Considering that they’re building a $250M hospital tower, and an $82M medical education building, not to mention that they’re in partnership with two multi-million dollar brand new hotels that we’ll see along Rainbow Boulevard, that’s more development than we’ve seen in Village West. I’m concerned that one of the fastest growing areas in our county right now is concerned that we’re making our Master Plans ordinances, and that may somehow impede the millions and millions of dollars that they’re investing in our county which we aren’t seeing anywhere else.

I’m not going to get into a legal battle. I’m in no position. I’m not qualified and I’m not going to argue with you. I’m simply going to say what I always say is that we, as commissioners, are at the mercy of our staff and the knowledge that our staff has. All we can do is base our votes and our decisions based on the information staff provides us.

If what you’re saying is accurate, then I’m all for this and we can just go ahead and move forward. Mr. Waters said I’d be happy to talk with him and address any concerns that he has. Commissioner Murguia said I think that you should do that. It’s millions of dollars. It’s approaching three-quarters of a billion dollars. I don’t know anywhere else that that’s happening.

Roll call was taken and there were eight “Ayes,” Murguia, Kane, Markley, Walters, Philbrook, Bynum, Townsend, McKiernan.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mayor Holland said before we adjourn tonight I have one other announcement. The Mayor’s Clergy roundtable is a group of clergy from around the community who have been working together for the last two years. That group has called for a public community forum that will be held Tuesday night, September 20, at 6:00 p.m. at the KCK Community Center Tech Center at 64th and State.

That discussion is going to be about how our community and law enforcement can work together to make KCK a safer and healthier place to live. It’s a hope to move the conversation forward for our community and to make sure that we’re taking proactive steps as a community.

I do have flyers available for the commissioners tonight and we have some additional flyers available here tonight for anyone who is interested. I think this is a conversation that is very important.

Commissioner Kane said, Mayor, I would love to be there, but I will be out of town. Mayor Holland said we will be recording it. There will be future ones as well. This won’t be a one item.
