THE 2020 CENSUS AT A GLANCE

The U.S. Census Bureau is the federal government’s largest statistical agency. They are dedicated to providing current facts and figures about America’s people, places and economy. Federal law protects the confidentiality of all individual responses the Census Bureau collects.

The U.S. Constitution requires that each decade we take a count or a census of America’s population. The census provides vital information for you and your community. It determines how many representatives each state gets in Congress and is used to redraw district boundaries. Also, communities rely on census statistics to plan for a variety of resident needs including new roads, schools and emergency services.

Each year, the federal government distributes more than $675 billion dollars to states and communities based on Census Bureau data. In 2020, they will implement new technology to make it easier than ever to respond to the census. There are three ways that the Census Bureau will initially collect responses from people for the 2020 Census: online, by phone and by mail.

By April 1, 2020, you will receive an invitation to participate in the Census. Once the invitation arrives, you should respond for your home. Starting in May 2020, the Census Bureau will begin following up in person with homes that have not responded to the census. (It’s easiest to respond to the initial inquiry by mail, that way you can ignore any persons reaching out to you for follow-up.

During the 2020 Census, the Census Bureau will NEVER as you for:

- Your Social Security Number
- Money or donations
- Anything on behalf of a political party
- Your bank or credit card account numbers

If someone claiming to be from the Census Bureau contacts you via email or phone and asks you for one of these things, it’s a scam and you should not cooperate.

If someone visits your home to collect a response for the 2020 Census, you can check to make sure that they have a valid ID badge with their photograph, a U. S. Department of Commerce watermark and an expiration date.

If you still have questions about their identity you can call 1-800-923-8282 to speak with a local Census Bureau representative.
Mr. Arthur Collins, Jr., age 85 passed away Sunday, January 12, 2020 at his home in Kansas City, Kansas. Mr. Collins had retired from the Unified Government where he last served as the Executive Director for the Wyandotte/Leavenworth Area Agency on Aging from January 10, 1983 through March 24, 2004. He also had served 20 years in the United States Air Force.

Art was the consummate professional and fearless but gentle leader. He was a very strong and dedicated advocate for the seniors in Wyandotte County. Art lead his staff by example. The legacy that he left with the agency is a commitment to be the voice of vulnerable seniors in our community who may not have a voice and need someone to advocate for the resources and services required for them to enjoy a quality of life.

So we at the Area Agency on Aging have continued his legacy in our daily work and advocacy to the seniors we assist in Wyandotte County. While he retired from the agency in 2004, and has now gone on to a better place, his example for serving the seniors in our community continue with us always. The Wyandotte/Leavenworth Area Agency on Aging staff and the entire aging network are so much better off because this brilliant and distinguished man named Art Collins crossed our paths.

SENIOR CARE TIPS FOR SPRING CLEANING

As the world shakes off another winter, it’s spring cleaning season once again. For some, spring cleaning might seem like a big job to tackle. It is a big job to tackle for some seniors who require assistance. With yearly spring cleaning, you can:

- Improve the safety of your home by eliminating hazards
- Increase ease of living by reorganizing for replacing items
- Evaluate your quality of life
- Identify if increased assistance is needed

With all that in mind, here are five tips to make spring cleaning easy:

1) Have a plan. Before you start cleaning, make a checklist of the areas you need to cover and tasks that you want to accomplish.

2) Invite other family or friends to help. Cleaning as a team makes spring cleaning easier and faster.

3) Go after clutter first. Getting rid of clutter helps improve home safety. It also makes it easier to clean. Organize items and get rid of unused clothing, furniture and appliances. It will make your job easier and your home safer.

4) Throw out expired items. Having expired medication or food around can be dangerous, especially if you struggle with memory issues. Do a thorough cleaning of your medicine cabinet, fridge and pantry to reduce the risk posed by expired items.

5) Test Safety Precautions. When spring cleaning, use the opportunity to test any safety items in your home. Check the secureness and stability of grab bars, test your fire and carbon monoxide detectors and perform an overall evaluation of your home’s safety.

If you feel that you may benefit from in-home senior care, give the Area Agency on Aging a call at 913-573-8531. They will be happy to discuss your options.

WHAT IS DEHYDRATION?

Water is the source of life. That may sound like an exaggeration, but it’s true. Throughout your life, water is essential for many of your body’s functions, including temperature regulation, waste elimination, joint lubrication, delivery of nutrients to cells, blood oxygen circulation, skin hydration and cognitive function. You become dehydrated when your body doesn’t have enough water to sustain these vital processes. Fortunately, your body is designed to constantly adjust its fluid levels. Thirst is one way this happens.

In elderly people, the effects of being dehydrated can progress quickly, so you must act fast if you suspect dehydration. As well, symptoms of dehydration in the elderly are often progressive. In the initial stages, you can tell if an elderly person is dehydrated by checking for the following signs of mild dehydration: cracked lips, dry mouth, dry skin, particularly in the armpits and less frequent urination than normal.

More severe effects of dehydration in the elderly are dark or strong-smelling urine, dizziness, increased heart rate, muscle cramps, crying without tears, confusion, fatigue and/or fainting.

If you experience any of the symptoms above, simply drink some water, then see if the symptoms improve in 10 to 15 minutes. (Or if you suspect that a loved one is dehydrated, make sure that he or she gets some water and look for improvement).

Always remember that getting prompt medical care is the most reliable way to know whether you or a senior is dehydrated.
